dodge, Pete.]

The street commissioner is now graveling the Territorial road near the western village limits.

couple of lost pins, which were valuable to her as keepsakes.

lic his proprietorship of the Dyckman a share of the patronage.

The first warm rain of the season fell last Friday night, and, while the ground was not suffering for moisture, the warmth was most acceptable.

It is Mrs. Foote, not Mrs. Cooley, who is interested with Mrs. Hulbert in the ice cream parlors. We deferred making the correction until it thawed a little.

The Misses Jennie and Lovice Whitmer left for Valparaiso, Ind., last Saturday. They will attend the normal school at that place for a term of two months.

A. B. Johnson left for Chicago the fore part of this week to purchase an outfit for his job printing office at Benton Harbor.

Eli Bierce was in town most of last week. He is nursing an injured hand, which made too intimate acquaintance with a "former" in the shop where he is employed.

Children's day was observed at the M. E. and Presbyterian churches last Sunday, forenoon and evening. Good attendance and interesting exercises at both houses.

John Paige's pension claim is finally allowed. He will get some $1200 arrearages. He thinks of buying a home here and moving his family back. They were visiting here last week.

Rose C. Dunham, of Kalamazoo.

to-day. He quotes prices on gents' fur-Kalamazoo, perished in the train that was wrecked by the flood at Conemaugh.

Her husband escaped. Mrs. Ranney's remains have not been recovered.

Remember the entertainment to be given by the Chinese family at the First Baptist church to-morrow (Thursday) evening. The press of the country are loud in their praises of these people.

Hamlin's wizzard oil people spent a couple of days and nights here last week. They gave some very entertaining out-door concerts, but we learn the women were light and the company moved on.

The second trial of Lewis Grant Wilson for the murder of John Aikens, Dec.
16th, 1887, was concluded in the Cass county circuit last week, and resulted in a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree.

Gov. Luce has commissioned Mr. J.
C. Gould as agent of the board of corrections and charities for this county, vice W. W. Dodge, who has removed from the county. The appointment is an excellent one.

The mother and four sisters of John Fry, of Decatur, are supposed to be among the lost at Johnstown. Their home was there, and was among the first destroyed, and no tidings of them has been received.

Apiarists in this locality report much damage to their bees by the prolonged cold and rainy weather. The bees were unable to procure food, and in many instances they have been found devouring their young broods.

Miss Eva Hayes, who is employed in the county treasurer's office, came very near losing a finger last Wednesday by getting it caught in the door of the safe, which she was closing. As it was, she sustained a very painful injury.

Everyone who intends to celebrate the Fourth of July, in any shape, will be better fitted for it after a careful perusal of Broughton's adv., for he is equally "up" in patriotic prose as in dissertations on women's rights.

Rev. W. J. Hathaway and the Misses Jennie and Lovice Whitmer drove over to Papsley's lake last Thursday afternoon, and on their return gleefully exhibited a magnificent black bass--a six-pounder--as a trophy of the sport.

sale at auction of their horses at Paw Paw stock yards on Saturday, June 15th; at Gobleville, Monday, June 17th, and at Bloomingdale on Tuesday, June 18th.
Sale to commence each day at one o'clock.

We learn that Neil Graine committed an unprovoked assault on George Lucas a few days ago. While no great personal injury was sustained by Mr. Lucas, the gravity of the offense is none the less. Graine should be recognized to keep the peace.

The attention of Street Commissioner Bullard is called to the fact that a number of shade trees in his part of the village need trimming. The limbs are so low that a person cannot pass under them with an umbrella or a very high hat without inconvenience.

The M. E. church was well filled last Thursday morning on the occasion of the funeral of Clara Wheeler. Rev. W.
J. Hathaway conducted the services and the remains were interred at Prospect Hill. Six young ladies, friends and former school-mates of the decased, acted as pall-bearers.

Farmers and gardeners in this vicinity complain that their melon and cucumber vines are all dead. While they were not killed outright by the frosts, they were so crippled as to render them unable to withstand the long seige of unfavorable weather to which they were afterwards subjected.

The ceremonies of dedicating the Michigan monuments at Gettysburg take place at 10 a. m. to-day. As the Pennsylvania road was unable to repair the damage by the Johnstown soldiers, they went via the Lake Shore and Baltimore & Ohio roads.

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Miller, of Holly, N. Y., are visiting at the home of Mr.
A. C. Glidden. Mr. Miller is largely interested in fruit evaporating and the manufacture of cider and vinegar. He is looking for a location for a western branch of his business, and an effort will be made to induce him to locate here.

The "Big Ten-Cent Show" of Burgess et al, incubated in this place, is still here; whether from a timidity to cut loose from the tap root, or from the extent of the patronage received, dependent saith not. Certain it is that the boys (old and young) are having "lashings" of fun out of it. We learn that the hilarity became so uproarious last Saturday evening that it took several men, armed with Bologna and fire-crackers, to restrain the mirth within reasonable bounds.

The horse and carriage mentioned in this paper last week as having been found in the highway east of this village, proves to have been the property of Dr. Long of Lawton. While visiting a patient in Porter township, the horse was either driven away or became untied and strayed away. All right now, however.

The graduating class of Schoolcraft have adopted the plan of substituting a lecture for the usual graduating exercises, and Rev. E. H. Harvey, of this village, has the honor of being chosen to address them. His subject is the "Ethics of Study," and we consider it a very safe prediction that the lecture will fully meet their expectations.

A fruit tree vendor named Connor, who hails from the east somewhere, and a Mrs. Hogmeyer, of Bloomingdale, are in jail in Allegan charged with adultery.
They eloped from Bloomingdale, Mrs.
H. leaving a family behind her. The festive pair were arrested while together in a room at the Sherman house. Mr.
Hogmeyer made the complaint.

The Covert News intimates that some of its neighboring exchanges have been purloining from its columns, and suggests that articles hereafter clipped receive the proper credit. That's right; and if we see "Lime" Russell or the Chicago News, or any other fellow, helping himself or themselves to the products of the brains of the News, we shall call attention to the fact.

Elder W. J. Russell, former pastor of the Disciple church here, now of Indianapolis, arrived in town last Thursday morning, and was the guest of Rev.
Pallister. On Friday evening he delivered his lecture on "The Wedding Ring" for the benefit of the young ladies' mission band. The house was well filled, taking into consideration the state of the weather, and the lecture delighted everybody.

The election by the school board of Miss Belle Cook, of Pontiac, as principal, and Miss Jennie Whitmer, of this place, for the second primary department, completes the corps of teachers for the ensuing school year. The recent decision of the board, raising the grade of certificates required of superintendents, principal and grammar teacher, will necessitate some "hustling" on the part of candidates for those places.

Now comes Van Buren county to the front with (what may be) a valuable gold mine discovered. Rock, which has the appearance of being gold-bearing, and sand which carries a large percentage of some metal which resembles free gold is found on the farm of James Lowry, near Prospect lake. Mr. Lowry is having the "find" tested, and will soon know whether he is James Lowry, Esq., or plain Jim Lowry, as heretofore.

Last week the Decatur Republican fairly howled with jealousy over what it was pleased to term the "Van Buren county newspaper syndicate." If there is any crime in a man's owning what property he can honestly pay for, we must plead guilty to the charge. We trust, Brother Rowland, that you'll lose no sleep for fear of our having designs on your little plant; though if you get too hard up, call around and we'll see what we can do for you.

The annual meeting of the Van Buren county Press Association, held at Hartford on Monday of this week, was well attended and both pleasant and profitable. The members were right royally entertained by the resident editor, C.
C. Phillips, who gave a dinner in their honor. C. C. Phillips was elected president, H. A. Cole vice-president, and J.
G. Jennings secretary and treasurer for the ensuing year. The next meeting will be held at South Haven.

The Evening News played a sharp game on the medical fraternity of Detroit a few days ago. A reporter, one of the most robust and healthy of the gang, was detailed by the city editor and ordered to consult ten different physicians, recite exactly the same symptoms to each, get their several prescriptions, and compare them. No two were alike in any single particular.
The reported is doing well--having taken neither the nostrums nor the advice of the physicians.

Mrs. Maria Colburn, wife of E. R.
Colburn, of Waverly, died last Saturday afternoon, aged 50 years. Deceased had been a great sufferer for years-- bed-ridden most of the time--but she was considered in no immediate danger.
On the day of her death she and her husband happened to be alone, and she asked him to step over to a neighbor's, only a few rods away, on some errand. He was gone but very few minutes, but on his return found her dead. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. J.
Hathaway at the Austin school house Monday afternoon and the remains buried in the cemetery near there.

Type foundry men, like tailors and milliners, no sooner get one style on the market, and thoroughly introduced, than they set about getting up something new. That some of these designers have very fertile brains is evidenced from the unique things in the way of type they produce. Several fonts of these queer looking letters have just been added to the jobbing department of the NORTHERNER. Whether we admire them or not, they are "style," and as we undertake all classes of work, from the plainest "dodger" to the finest society work, we are obliged to watch closely the varying styles of letter used and procure it as soon as issued.

A quiet wedding in this village last Thursday afternoon caused a little ripple of excitement in the circle of the acquaintance of the high contracting parties, from the fact that, with the exception of perhaps a half dozen people, not the slightest suspicion of anything of the kind had ever entered the minds of any. We refer to the marriage of Mr. S. C. McEntee and Mrs. Cornie L.
Mosier, at the home of the bride, Rev.
H. A. Pallister officiating. The newly wedded pair took an evening train for a short bridal tour, at the conclusion of which they will settle down in this village for the present, probably, as Mr.
McEntee's farm is rented.
